HEAVY ENROLLMENT. Many Students Enter for Year at Military Institute.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lexington, Va., Sept. 11.—A lively scene is presented at the Virginia Military Institute this week with the opening and assignment of cadets to their various duties. There are now 135 new men already matriculated with a few more in town not yet entered, and 300 old men enrolled, with some in town yet to enroll. It is expected that the enrollment this year will reach at least 400, which will be a considerable advance over last year. The number will tax the capacity of barracks.

Those athletically inclined have turned their attention to football, and already plans are being matured for a strong aggregation of plucky punters.

Several of last year's stars will play, and other promising new men will make the team.

Andrew S. Montgomery, a well-known citizen of Lexington and formerly a resident of the county for many years, has been elected by the Lexington Town Council as Town Sergeant and Chief of Police. He has already entered upon the discharge of his duties. Among the first of his cases was the capture, red-handed, of a blind tiger dispensing contraband.

Colonel Thomas A. Jones, professor of engineering at the Virginia Military Institute, has accepted the superintendency of road construction and improvement in Lexington, the position being tendered by the Street Committee, composed of Captain M. B. Corse and Reid White. The town recently voted a bond issue of $25,000 to be used for streets and roads, and Colonel Jones will have in charge the expenditure of this money, or such portion as may be necessary for the needs of the town's streets.

SPEER NAMED TO SUCCEED SIBLEY

Nominated for Congress in 28th Pennsylvania District.

Franklin, Pa., September 11.—Peter M. Speer, of Oil City, a former member of the Pennsylvania Assembly, was nominated for Congress on the Republican ticket in the Twenty-eighth District to succeed Joseph C. Sibley, who recently resigned after the audit of his $42,000 election expense account began. There were two candidates for the vacancy—Speer and ex-Judge Samuel Miller, of Mercer. The latter announced himself as a "Regular Progressive." Speer did not make any platform declarations, but he is generally regarded as a Regular. When a member of the House of this State he invariably voted with the organization forces, and was formerly with the Quay forces. While he never represented the Standard Oil Company as an attorney, he is regarded as member of the Standard Oil forces. There are five counties in the Twenty-eighth District, and there was fine conference. Speer received the votes of the six of them. The only votes Miller received were three from his own county, and they were instructed for him.

Judge George S. Griswold granted the petition of Sibley's lawyers to continue the audit of his accounts until November 14. Thus any political effect that was sought by the Progressives will be lost, for the election is on November 8. The normal Republican majority in the district is about 5,000, and it is doubtful if William J. Breen, the militant Democratic candidate, who stood a good chance to defeat Sibley, can overcome this majority.

Brent; fifth grade, Miss Ethel Dunlap; sixth grade, Miss Ethel Terrell; seventh grade, Mrs. Lula Walker; music department, Mrs. Olive Houston. The new teachers elected are Miss Harper, of Wakefield; Miss McKinnon, of Laurinburg, and Miss Walker, of Bedford City, Va.

TO MEET IN CHARLOTTEVILLE.

Synod of Virginia Embraces Three States and Washington City.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Charlottesville, Va., September 11.—The Synod of Virginia, embracing in its territory the States of Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland, and the District of Columbia, will assemble in Charlottesville October 13. On its roll there are 310 ministers, 565 churches and 51,636 members. Among these are distinguished preachers, educators and professional men. So extensive is the territory included within its boundaries that no one city or town can have the privilege of entertaining the body. The last meeting of the synod held in Charlottesville was in 1883, just twenty-seven years ago. About 300 delegates are expected. The synod will meet Thursday evening, October 13, and will adjourn about Tuesday following.

Enlarging Warehouses.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Chatham, September 11.—Both tobacco warehouses are being enlarged, and the additions will make several thousand more feet of floor space. The Star Warehouse will be in charge of Treway & Lea and the other in charge of Neal & Dixon, the same firms who conducted them during the last season. A coopersage factory will be erected on the lot adjoining the warehouse of Neal & Dixon by J. H. Hargrave & Son.

The new building for the Chatham Training School is being rapidly pushed to completion, and the faculty is lending every energy to have it ready for opening day, which is September 22.

The Chatham Episcopal Institute will open for the session on September 14, and the Chatham High School on September 19.

Rev. T. Ryland Sanford has been engaged in a series of meetings in Nelson county during the past week.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lynchburg, September 11.—In the Corporation Court yesterday the jury in the appeal case of Walter Moyer, who was convicted recently by the Police Court of the charge of selling liquor in the city, returned a verdict of not guilty, and the accused was discharged.

The case of J. A. Rucker, who was convicted of the same charge, from which he also appealed, resulted in a verdict of $50 fine and a bond of $500. The case against Claude Daniel, another appealed liquor case, was continued until the second day of the October term for trial.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Freeburg, Va., Sept. 11.—The store of Swindell & Killen, at Osborn's Gap, was burned recently. The fire was under full headway when discovered, and nothing was saved. There was some money in the cash drawer, but the exact amount is not known. The post-office was kept in the building. It is thought to have been the work of some one who had a grudge at one of both parties of the firm, as no fire had been kept in the building and the matches were kept closely boxed. The loss is partly covered by insurance.
